

Post-Doctoral Faculty Position
Appalachian College of Pharmacy in Virginia

Type: Post-Doctoral Faculty Position - Pharmaceutics

Salary: Not specified

Employment Type: Full-time

Deadline: Open

The Appalachian College of Pharmacy, a doctoral pharmacy school located in Oakwood, Virginia, is seeking qualified applicants for a full-time, 12-month entry level faculty/post-doctoral Position. This position requires teaching (didactic and experiential courses) in the areas of pharmaceutics, as well as independent and collaborative research.

The successful candidate must hold a doctoral degree in Pharmaceutics, Pharmaceutical Sciences, or a related discipline. Required skills include experience with analytical instrumentation such as UV-visible spectrophotometer, near infrared reflectance spectroscopy (NIR), and high performance liquid chromatography (HPLC). Preferred qualifications include teaching in a pharmacy curriculum and laboratory instruction (compounding and/or integrated labs), publication in peer-reviewed journals, and experience in commercial pharmaceutical development and/or analysis.

Applicants should submit a completed application (available at www.acp.edu), a letter of intent, curriculum vitae, and the names and contact information for three references to Human Resources, Appalachian College of Pharmacy, 1060 Dragon Road, Oakwood, Virginia 24631. E-mail: HR@acp.edu. In correspondences please mention "Post Doc Position – Pharmaceutical sciences" as the subject reference.

The Appalachian College of Pharmacy is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE) and certified to operate in Virginia by the State Council for Higher Education. The Appalachian College of Pharmacy is an Equal Opportunity Employer and maintains a drug-free workplace.